

Morning Journal.

BY THE ALBUQUERQUE PUBLISHING CO.

Wednesday, September 20, 1882.

Five cent paper drawn from the wood; wines and liquors for family and medicinal use; champagne and cigars at W. E. Taylor's, the only reliable wholesale house in New Mexico.

SMALL TALK.

The great circus on Saturday.

A party of five came down from Copper City last night.

The Fort Wingate band concert Friday night should be well patronized.

McComas, Catron & Thornton, have moved into their handsome new quarters in the Comwell building.

Paul Langhammer has purchased a car-load of copper ore in Copper City and shipped it to Socorro to be smelted.

Work on the Rio Grande bridge is being pushed rapidly, a large force of men being constantly at work on the structure.

The Opera House will open the bars to-night and the coryphees of the Black Crook will visit their admirers in the boxes.

These Chicago capitalists and railroad moguls gave Albuquerque the go-by after all and went through the city to Santa Fe yesterday morning.

Judge Hazeltine yesterday received a letter from South Forks, in Lincoln county, which was mailed thirteen months ago. An illustration of the mail service of New Mexico.

The regular weekly Methodist prayer meeting will be held at the M. E. church to-night instead of the South M. E. church. Services will be conducted by Rev. Sheppard.

The celebrated Fort Wingate band will play at Moses' Pavilion to-night, and every night this week, and Saturday afternoon, and Sunday afternoon and evening. A program of each night's concert will be published in The Journal.

The famous Robinson circus and menagerie will be here on Saturday in all its grand and glorious entirety and commence the day's festivities with a free street parade at 10 o'clock, a full dress performance at 1 o'clock and a grand night show at 7 o'clock in the evening.

There will be a supper in Armijo hall, commencing at 5 and continuing to 10 p.m. on the afternoon of September 21, 1882, by the ladies of, and those interested in, the Presbyterian church, assisted by the Albuquerque Home Guards. Supper, fifty cents; ice cream extra. All are cordially invited to attend.

The financial committee appointed by the board of trade had an informal meeting yesterday, and are able to say that all arrangements have been completed for raising the money necessary to secure the Hubbs smelter for Albuquerque, and further that the scheme is a success and the smelter will surely become one of the institutions of this city.

Every hotel in the city was full to overflowing before the exposition. The fact is the hotels have all their can attend to all the time and there is not one but is doing a big business.

When the large hostelry now being built, on the corner of Fifth street and Railroad avenue is completed, Albuquerque will have, not only the best hotel in New Mexico, but more first-class hotel accommodations. The house now undergoing construction, will cost completed upward of $75,000 and will prove a paying investment from the first day it is opened to the public.

PERSONAL.

The Exposition—Stylish for the Ladies.

Mrs. Borradaile will have on exhibition at the Armijo house during the week of the exposition, the most complete styles of imported hats, bonnets, and dress goods ever brought to this city.

ORDERS TAKEN FOR DRESSES.

All work warranted to be first-class. I have all the latest eastern styles in patterns, and ladies cannot fail to be pleased. Call and examine my stock and styles. I am sure my prices will not fail to suit you.

The Best Carriage Maker.

Mr. M. Zibut, of the West End, has fully recovered from his serious attack of rheumatism, and is at work in his carriage shop again as good as ever. In conversation with a Journal reporter yesterday, Mr. Zibut stated that he made the first carriage ever manufactured in the Territory, and that style of vehicle became so popular that he has continued to manufacture them ever since. It is what he calls a "Democrat," being a spring bar top buggy, elegantly finished and very comfortable and durable. He guarantees all his work, and no better can be found in the Territory. He makes all kinds of wagons and carriages, and his prices are always low.

New Fall Millinery.

Mrs. Medler has just received a large and well selected stock of fine fall and winter millinery goods. Look out for Mrs. Medler's exhibit at the fair next week.

THE FAIR.

The Second Day of the Territorial Exposition a Great Success.

Description of Some of the Exhibits to be Seen in the Main Building.

The Ball Tossers and Their Contests on the Diamond Field.

Some Exciting Races, Both Running and Trotting, in the Speed Ring.

The Military Drill—Exposition Notes—Today's Program—Entries for the Races.

There was not as large a crowd at the exposition yesterday as was expected by the management, although it was greatly in excess of Monday. Most of all the exhibits are now in, and the main building presents a very attractive appearance. The weather is all that could be desired and the success of the fair is now assured beyond a shadow of a doubt. The exhibits are all attractive and there is none but are well worth seeing.

B. MOSES EXHIBIT.

No man in the Territory deserves more praise for his enterprise and business tact than Mr. Moses, the cigar man. He came to this city when it was in its infancy and by close attention to business and exclusive dealing in one line of goods has built up a business he is justly proud of. He is the only exclusive cigar man in the city, and his exhibit on the exposition grounds is the finest ever shown in the Territory and there are few exhibits at eastern state fairs can equal it. He displays every kind and quality of cigars from the cheapest to the best. One particular feature of his exhibit is a box of Havanas worth $50. The sight of them makes a smoker's mouth water. In addition to the splendid array of cigars he has every variety and kind of smokers' articles, consisting of beautiful merchandise pipes, cigar holders, in unique and elegant designs, and cigars of every grade. In fact it is an exhibit that cannot be surpassed in the whole Territory, and it is one of the attractions of the fair.

MR. MOSES also has a very fine mineral cabinet, and it is surrounded by a crowd of admiring spectators all day long. The cabinet contains specimens from nearly every mine in the Territory, and some remarkably rich ore is in the collection. One can form a good idea of the vast mineral resources of the Territory from a careful study of Mr. Moses' cabinet. Every specimen is classified and labeled and arranged in a very attractive manner.

But the crowning feature of Mr. Moses' exhibit is his Indian curiosities shop. We noticed some beautiful Navajo blankets, the results of Indian skill, of beautiful and attractive designs. One particular blanket cost $200, and there are a number of others that cost not much less. Around the walls of the cabinet are hung various specimens of Indian workmanship, consisting of moccasins, leggings, bows and arrows, fine embroidered work of all kinds, and every article of wearing apparel and adornment that delights the civilized, as well as the savage eye. Mr. Moses deserves great credit for his enterprise in getting up his various exhibits, and they form a very important feature in the attractions of the fair.

SPIDELBERG BROS' EXHIBIT.

On entering the main exposition building, one is forcibly struck by the beautiful and artistic arrangement of the display goods exhibited by Spigelberg Bros.

The name, introducing you to this brilliant palace of ladies' wear, "Temple of Fashion," is beautifully wrought in French flowers by Miss Sallie Grunsfeld, and the artistic arrangement of the handsome display is the work of Mr. A. M. Berger, the attention to the display. Two beautiful dresses, imported direct from Paris, France, per order of the Messrs. Spigelberg, are the first objects likely to catch the visitor's eye. One of these is an elegant bridal dress of French green grain silk, trimmed with beaded Spanish lace, leaves and flowers of beads and Valenciennes lace. The dress is valued at $225 by the Spigelberg Bros., and it is worth every cent of it.

The other dress is rich, very handsome and beautifully made. It is made of black French satin and silk velvet, with gaudy trimming of leaves and flowers in variegated colors and black Spanish lace.

Also could be seen in this exhibit two very beautiful dolmans, one of rich surrah satin, with real otter fur lined with French plush, the other of soft surrah silk with hand-made velvet and gold and silver embroidery.

Eleven hand-made antique lace gowns, and shawls, trimmed with pale blue satin. Exquisite point lace handkerchiefs, ladies' wear in Valenciennes lace, lace collars, in fact, all pertaining to a business of this kind, can be seen at this exhibit. Those wishing anything on exhibition should call on the exposition.

It is with the proviso that they leave it until the close of the exposition.

Police and gentlemen treatment is guaranteed by the well known proprietors and a pleasant call is the earnest desire of the proprietors of the

BACA'S DISPLAY.

Many were the praises given this well-known merchant yesterday by visitors to the exposition, as the exhibit he exhibited by him is without doubt the finest ever seen in the Territory.

Fine wines, liquors and cigars are exhibited in great quantities, among them especially noticeable are twenty-three jugs of imported cordials. A splendid assortment of French wines can be seen at this place, Rhine wine, Niersteiner, Deidesheimer, Hochheimer, Cantezac, Medoc, Clignot, and many other celebrated brands too numerous to mention. Liqueur extra fine, from Chavlin Freres, Bordeaux, France, in beautiful baskets was ordered expressly for the Albuquerque exposition by Santiago Baca, through the agency of Cook & Bernheim, New York, and they are gotten up in splendid shape, at once attracting the eye of the visitor. Also he has the genuine Raki Bitters on display. Imported Geneva gin, Mumm's extra dry champagne, and the celebrated Piper Heidsieck of the vintage of '79, are also on exhibition. Also imported Eau de Vie, or Dantzick gold water, Hennessy's well-known brandy, Gold Lion Holland gin and Alpine brandy, the newest, latest and finest thing in liquors are there to be seen.

Mr. Baca also carries twenty-six different brands of the finest Havana and seed and Havana cigars ever brought into this market, on which great inducements are offered the buyers of these goods.

Last, but not least, the agency of the justly celebrated Conrad-Bulweiser beer is in the care of Mr. Baca for this city, he being its sole agent. Little need be said in praise of this well known and splendid article, as all beer drinkers both in the family circle and the saloon can attest its superior qualities.

In conclusion it is needless to say that the display as made by Mr. Baca is handsome and costly and speaks volumes for the enterprise of this well known liquor house.

CAPTAIN HUBBELL'S EXHIBIT.

The gray haired ranchman of Pajarito, is seen every day in the main building extolling the merit of New Mexican soil, and surely if the exhibits he has spread out, in the main building, is to be taken as any proof of what can be done, by a little labor, the soil deserves it. He told a Journal reporter yesterday, that it was impossible for him to tell what the different kinds of apples were, as he sowed them broad east and of the nineteen varieties, he knew the names of only four. Golden Russets, Twenty-ounce, Pippens and Greenings. Besides apples he makes a display of cabbages, parsnips, beets, onions (Mexican and American) grapes and tomatoes. This exhibit is at the southern end of the main building, and the captain is always on hand.

M. E. HOWE'S EXHIBIT.

In about the center of the exposition building can be seen Mr. M. E. Howe's elegant jewelry display, which is indeed a handsome one.

Nothing but the regular stock is exhibited by this gentleman and this fact he wishes to be understood. The articles seen in this display may be found at his store on Railroad avenue.

RACE BALL.

The base ball tournament opened yesterday morning, the first game taking place between the San Marcel and Carbonateville nines. The Rio Grandes, of San Marcel, wore a white uniform with "R. G." on the breast. The Rio Grandes did not play the latter part of the ninth inning as they had already won the game.

W. T. McCright, the umpire, gave very general satisfaction in his thankless position. The Rio Grandes boys outplayed the Mountains both in batting and fielding—especially in the latter. The score is as follows:

NAME GRADES, OF SAN MARCEL.

Name Oats, Runs

Russ, J. B. 3 4

Beville, R. 3 4

Haibert, J. B. 3 4

Garner, J. B. 3 4

Worhust, C. 3 4

Woodworth, S. B. 3 4

Murphy, C. F. 3 4

Robins, J. F. 3 4

Total 24 33

NAME GRADES, OF CARBONATEVILLE.

Name Oats, Runs

Crowley, J. F. 3 4

Hanna, J. B. 3 4

Lyons, R. F. 3 4

Dane, C. F. 3 4

Keeler, P. 3 4

O'Brien, J. B. 3 4

Clark, C. 3 4

Todd, S. S. 3 4

Mathews, J. B. 3 4

Total 27 6

The game of base ball yesterday afternoon ended in anything but an amiable feeling, the score at the finish of eight innings standing 18 to 19 in favor of the home club. The trouble all seems to be with Manager and Captain Sullivan whom the home boys accuse of acting with the Carbonateville. The matter will be settled this morning, when the clubs meet to finish the last innings.

THE SPEED RING.

The first race on the program yesterday afternoon was called at 3:30. It was for green trotters, mile heats, best two in three. There were four entries and four to start. The draw for positions resulted in Lady White, entered by F. Godard, of Las Vegas, getting the pole; Membrino Royal, entered by Holbrook, of Las Vegas, second; Kansas Maid, entered by A. A. Moore, of Albuquerque, third, and Empress, entered by Livingston, of Las Vegas, fourth.

After scoring to the wire three times the word "go!" was given, and the race was commenced. The horses kept close together from the start and the heat was an exciting one. First, one would come to the front and then another. At the end of the first half-mile Kansas Maid was in the lead, with Membrino Royal and Empress trotting neck and neck, only a length behind, and Lady White a single length behind them. When they came down the home stretch on the last half mile, Empress had dropped to the rear and Lady White had gained a third place. Kansas Maid won the heat in 3:06.

The second heat Empress showed her speed, and took the lead from the start and kept it to the finish, winning the heat in 2:55. Membrino Royal and Lady White were three or four lengths behind Empress, and passed only leading by half a neck.

Empress won the last heat, and the race easily in 2:49, with Membrino

CONVENTION GOSSIP.

A Scout Among the Politicians By Journal Reporters.

Both sides feel confident of winning. We will know how the whole thing will pan out to-day.

The fun commences in the opera house at 10 o'clock this morning.

Frank Manzanarez would not accept the nomination if tendered him.

Caucuses of the friends of Judge Prince and Mr. Luna were held last night.

The delegates to the convention make their headquarters at the Armijo house.

The convention to-day will draw largely from the attendance at the exposition.

W. G. Pritchard will be nominated for chairman of the temporary organization this morning.

The Territorial Republican committee had a rather stormy meeting last night, in the Armijo house parlors.

All delegates to the convention are requested to call at the Armijo house this morning, and get tickets and badges from Col. Max Frost. Tickets for ladies and others who desire to attend can be obtained from Col. Frost, at any time before 10 o'clock.

A Shooting Affray.

Don Clelio Garcia had been gambling during the day yesterday in the west side and lost among other valuables a mule and ten sheep. He requested the winners to accompany him across the river to Rancho Atrisco where he could pay the debt. Arriving at the other side a quarrel took place when Garcia, enraged at his loss, turned loose a gun of large caliber on them. Two shots took effect wounding both—one in the shoulder the other in the thigh. The former was brought over to the west end, where Dr. Muehl dressed his wound which was not very serious.

Officers Murphy and Richmond started in pursuit of Garcia and will no doubt capture him before to-night.

Why They Did Not Stop.

The following messages will explain themselves:

C. C. Waselet, El Paso.

Sept. 19, 1882.—The board of trade, through Col. Molyneux Bell, the president, extends to yourself and party the courtesy of the city and an invitation to visit the Territorial exposition which begins to-morrow. If you will name the hour a committee will be glad to meet you on arrival.

C. R. WILLIAMS.

C. R. WILLIAMS.

GLORIETTA, Sept. 19, 1882.—Your message of the 17th reached me this morning at Lamy. It is now impossible to accept the kind invitation of the board of trade. Please tender my thanks to the gentleman of the board's message reached me in season I should have been glad to have partaken of their hospitality. C. C. WHEELER.

Another message was sent to Mr. Wheeler at Socorro similar to the one sent him at El Paso and neither of them were delivered. The telegraph operators at these points are at fault and should be severely censured.

The Black Crook.

An additional attraction will be added to this popular play this evening in the person of Capt. W. G. Marmon and his company of Laguna Indians.

Manager Sullivan, with his usual desire to please the public, is ever hunting for new attractions.

It was a well deserved compliment paid to Nola Forrest Monday evening in the presentation of a diamond ring. She is worthy of it.

It is hoped the visitors to this city will not fail to see the play.

The Guard Hall.

The hall given by the Guard to their visitors took place last evening in Armijo Hall, on Railroad avenue. Arrangements for holding the ball were completed Monday evening. The hall was handsomely decorated in the national colors. Strips of red, white and blue extended around the room, being caught up here and there and allowed to hang in festoons. In each space made by the drapery is hung a handsome painting. In the center of the west side wall is a well executed crayon of Lieut. Col. Armijo, underneath which is a large mirror. The columns in the center of the hall are tastefully entwined with the national colors. Rows of chairs are set against the wall on every side of the room, and a music stand has been erected, on the front of which is painted "2d Reg't, N. M. V. G." Above the decorations in different parts of the hall the names of the visitors are placed. On the east end "Laguna Rifles" and "Preston Rifles" are placed. On the west end "Laguna Rifles" and "Preston Rifles" are placed. Just above the music stand, at the extreme southern end of the hall, is the motto, "Welcome to our Visitors."

Dancing was commenced at an early hour and the floor was thronged with those who took part in the festivities. A large number of ladies from all parts of the Territory were present, besides members of the different militia companies in full uniform. The Fort Wingate band furnished the music. The supper was served in the Armijo House dining room shortly after 12 o'clock and it was one of Scott Moore's best. The Guard has given many balls since its organization, but none have proved more successful than that of last night.

A. G. Stark, of Las Vegas, and one of the San Miguel county delegation to the Territorial convention arrived last night.

Thomas J. Seely, late division superintendent of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road, arrived last night to take in the exposition.

Mr. John J. Foster, the agent of Robinson's big show, completed arrangements for the great circus on Saturday. He made things lively during his stay.

Dr. G. Bruhl, of Cincinnati, was in the city last night. He is a correspondent of the Cincinnati Volksblatt, and is on his way to visit to Zuni country at the invitation of the chiefs.

Jesse M. Wheelock returned from the city of Chihuahua yesterday morning. Morris Messenger, who went down there with him, has gone into the hotel business with Tom Post.

A Revolution in Fencing.

The ornamental wire fence for lawns, parks, etc., shown by Vose & Co. in the exposition building is destined to produce a revolution in fencing residence lots. The beauty of this fence is only exceeded by its extreme cheapness. It can be put up for little more than half the price of pickets, costs less than a common tight board fence, and only about twice as much as a rough lumber four board fence. It comes of any height desired, from sixteen inches for cemetery lots, to six feet for chicken yards. Its fence cannot burn up or blow down, it harbors no insects or vermin, it is very durable, and is the nearest and cheapest fence for general purposes. For full particulars enquire of Vose & Co.

They Keep What They Show.

The exhibition of persons building residences or about to furnish them has naturally been attracted by the display of Vose & Co. at the fair. The goods shown by them were not purchased east or manufactured there especially for the exposition, but are samples of what Vose & Co. actually carry in stock or can manufacture on short notice. If you want anything from the big ages for your front gate to the pump for your back yard, from the nail in your door to the tin on your roof, from the General right latch on your door to the padlock on your stable, from the grate in your parlor to the stove in your kitchen, from the spade for your garden to the chandelier for your gas, call at Vose & Co., on Front street, between Gold and Silver avenues, and a very little of your gold and silver will fit you up a dwelling on the broad avenue of satisfaction.

THE BIG SHOW.

Robinson's big show, which will be here on Saturday, recently exhibited for an entire week in San Francisco, and by the excellence of everything connected with it, received the highest endorsements from all quarters. From a long article in the Chronicle the following is extracted:

JOHN ROBINSON'S SHOW.

The time for the small boy to say "he has seen his face" has come. Uncle John Robinson's circus and menagerie are with us in all their glory. To be sure the weather was not all favorable for the propitious inauguration of an outdoor entertainment season yesterday, but the attractions which the veteran showman had announced were all on hand—and sufficient to overcome the perversity of the weather department, and thousands entered the huge canvas and emerged therefrom greatly delighted with the show, and happier if not indeed wiser than before. Everything which one expects to meet at a first-class circus was there, and several new cards were introduced which, because of their novelty, were not expected. The first feature with which the visitor to this mammoth show is confronted is the vast collection of rare animals and beasts, which it has taken "Uncle John" a life time to gather together from the four quarters of the globe. The great stretch of canvas, which occupies the lot, is the largest ever seen here, and is subdivided into three rings, in each of which a distinct performance is continually progressing, so that the auditor witnesses three entirely different acts at one and the same time.
